NAUGHTON FARMS

One of Texas' Largest Mail Order Nurseries

. . . AND SAVE MONEY

AS OVER 200,000 OTHERS DO!

WHY PAY MORE THAN NAUGHTON'S PRICES?

This question has been answered by more than 200,000 people who have bought from me in the past thirteen years, who are now my customers. Their purchases from me is the most convincing way of saying, "There is no reason on earth why we should pay more money than Joe A. Naughton asks for his nursery stock."

My prices are so low because I sell direct to you from my nurseries in Tyler, Myrtle Springs and Waxahachie, Texas. And, too, I sell through the mail—not through salesmen, dealers, jobbers, agents, or expensive chain stores—but direct from the grower to my customers. You can readily see that in growing the hundreds of thousands of plants that I do and shipping them direct to my customers that I can sell at lower prices than other nurseries. Two hundred thousand customers mean that the quality must be right—mass production means that my prices will be lower.

I ask you to be the judge of the quality of nursery stock I sell. Consider all the facts—my thirteen years' reputation, my 200,000 customers, my guarantee of satisfaction or money back, and the actual plants shipped from my nurseries. Consider the fact that every plant being grown by me at this time—in my nurseries in three of the leading counties in Texas, in all my greenhouses and lath houses—is inspected each year by the TEXAS STATE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE. This is, of course, to insure that all plants are disease free and as they should be when they leave my nurseries.

Every plant that I ship through the mail, and every plant listed in this catalog, is postage paid by me. This stock is delivered to your door, whether you live in the city, in the suburbs, or on the farm. Where can you find a nursery that can render you better service? I am proud of the service I am rendering my customers. My three big nurseries, located in Myrtle Springs, Tyler and Waxahachie, Texas, and my shipping point in McMinnville, Tennessee, along with a large staff of efficient employees, enable me to render the best possible service.

Ever since I began my business I have tried to earn the good will of my customers. Right at the start I said to myself, "Joe, if you want to succeed you must make it worth while for people to trade with you." So, I made my prices much lower than others. I shipped the highest quality plants that could be obtained and rendered the quickest possible service, and I treated each customer as if my whole career depended on his satisfaction. Today I own, and personally oversee, one of TEXAS' LARGEST MAIL ORDER NURSERIES.

If anything you buy from me is not as represented in this catalog and does not come up to your every expectation—you may immediately return the goods and I will refund full purchase price plus all transportation charges. Let me prove all that I have said.

Sincerely,

JOE A. NAUGHTON.

The Rose

Always I have believed that the happiness of mankind could be increased by encouraging the love of a garden, the love of the beautiful that is innate in us all. And, in the development of a garden no plant is more worthy of a large place than the rose. Like music, the rose has a universal charm. There is nothing more beautiful. In every stage of human existence, from the cradle to the grave, the rose is the emblem of divine creation, of sympathy, of joy, of hope, and of affection. In what wonderful shades and colorings, in what exquisite varieties of form and habit, and with what delicate perfume it is now possible to have them. For length of blooming period the rose has few equals and no superiors among the flowering shrubs—it, of course, stands in a class by itself—with all its gorgeous array of colorings, with all its lovely fragrance—truly, it may be called “The Queen of Flowers.”

It has an individual charm it retains throughout the entire winter months when everything else is bleak and dreary. Its very glossy green foliage stands out above all other Evergreens. It is unexcelled to use as a background against your home, driveway, fence, or to use as a specimen plant in the landscape. It may be left untrimmed to grow into a large plant that will cover unsightly places, or you can shear it into any shape desired; such as, globe or round shapes, pyramidal or box types. Being very hardy and a fast grower, it is easy to transplant and will do well in most any kind of soil. It is the most widely planted evergreen in the Southern States. As a background plant in any part of your landscape it has no equal due to the soft texture of the leaves and the velvety effect that it gives. To use in hedging the plant is most popular as it is something different, and you have an entire hedge in a beautiful and lovely shade of green which stays that color during the entire twelve months of the year. It does not require as much trimming as the ordinary and common hedge plants, and it stands the dry summer months well. It can be sheared low and used as a border around your driveways, your walks, or your center flower beds. As large single specimen plants we do not believe you need to look further, as the Euonymous Japonica will meet the requirements of such plants in any landscape. FRUIT STOCK

PEACH: The peach is one of the surest crops in the Southern States. Almost all soils are well adapted for growing the Peach, and it is more at home in Southern soils and is more suited to Southern conditions than any other fruit. The peach has been a profitable crop in the South from a commercial standpoint, as well as in the home orchard, and we strongly recommend the planting of peach.

GRAPE VINES

We cannot put too much stress on the planting of grape vines in the South. A vine here, one there, and you will have all the fruit you want. As a commercial crop they have no equal, in our estimation, as you can always find a splendid market for good grapes. They do well in most all kinds of soil and will stand planting very close together. Why not cover your back fence with something that will make you money?

VARIETIES WE OFFER, GIVING SHORT DESCRIPTION

CONCORD GRAPE: Bunch and berry large; blue black in color. Flesh juicy and very sweet. One of the best known and popular sorts.

CARMEN: Bunch, berry size, deep carmen red in color. The Carmen is fine for eating, as it is very juicy and sweet. Is exceptionally fine for making grape jelly.

NIAGARA GRAPE: Berry large; white with rather tough skin. Fruit tender, sweet and juicy. The best variety of the whites.

MOORE (Moore's Early) GRAPE: An early black grape, well adapted for Southern planting. Ripens about two weeks ahead of Concord and does well wherever planted.

PECANS—The Sure Investment

The planting of pecan trees has long passed the experimental stage, and a commercial grove of Pecans, once it starts bearing, will continue to produce nuts and pay dividends long after any other investment has passed into discard. The pecan tree is different to most other trees; in that the older the tree, the larger the yield; hence, the greater profit. Properly handled, pecan trees will begin paying dividends 5 to 6 years after planting but, of course, a great deal depends on the care the trees receive the first few years after planting. They are a sure investment. Plant them for shade trees, and let them produce both beautiful shade and a crop of nuts.
